HOW DO OUR EXPERIENCES WORK?

1

Take a look through our wide range of interactive team building experiences in this brochure and decide which would be best suited to you and your team. If you like the look of more than one experience, GREAT!

2

Let us know which experience(s) you'd like to choose. You can choose just one activity if you're pressed for time, or you can have multiple experiences back to back! If you have more than one team, or if you'd like to break into smaller groups, you can do different experiences simultaneously. For example, one group could enjoy the Virtual Murder Mystery while the other is making Gin!

3

We'll take each team member's details so that they can each receive their own bespoke package to wherever they are. Then just leave it to us and we will manage all aspects of your Virtual Team Building event and ensure everything runs seamlessly and successfully. All you need to do is sit back, and ENJOY YOUR EXPERIENCE!

DON'T JUST TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT!

Gav Winter
CEO, Rapid Spike

“ Kate and her team at The Secret Event Service made our online Christmas Party an evening to remember. A cocktail (and mocktail) master class, escape rooms and more were enjoyed by our team of 16. We absolutely loved every minute and it was great to receive our generous drinks packs through the post, it really helped get us all excited as we posted their arrival on slack. On the day the event was really well executed and such a great laugh we stayed on until the early hours partying! Thank you Kate and The Secret Event Service Team (you won't be a secret for long!!)

The Team, The Data Shed

“ ‘Absolutely amazing, very well organised, minimal confusion, meal was good, considering the circumstances it was, as we say oop narth, proper wicked. Getting to put away a criminal remotely could only have been made better by having an actual murder committed. Oh, and the after party activities were fun too!’

Megan Pocock
Business Analyst, Accelerant Holdings

“ What a fantastic event! We took part in the murder mystery for our virtual Christmas party and it was enjoyed by all circa 50 staff who attended from both the UK and across Europe. The service received in the run up and during the event was second to none. The actors were fabulous and very believable and the platform itself was a perfect fit for the event. Many staff commented on how it was even better than they had anticipated! Would highly recommend.

“ Legitimately the most fun I've had during lockdown. Everything was well organised, the people on hand to assist were great! Genuinely cannot recommend it enough!

ICEBREAKERS

Whether you love them or hate them, icebreakers are really important in group environments as they give everyone the opportunity to engage with one another and get comfortable in their surroundings. Here's a few games we encourage you to play before the 'organised fun' really starts!

DESERT ISLAND

In teams you are presented with seven items and you can pick three that items that you would take if you were stranded on a desert island. This encourages team members to view each other as their teammates and helps remote workers learn how to collaborate even when they aren't physically together.

SHARE YOUR BUCKET LIST

Each team member is asked to create a bucket list prior to your team building event and share it with the group during the ice breaker session. This helps you to learn more about your co-workers personalities and you may even find you share common interests with them.

PERSONAL FACTS GAME

Your team leader or manager will collect a fun fact about everyone and in teams you will go through and try to figure out which fact belongs to each team member. This activity, suited to smaller teams, helps to develop team cohesion and camaraderie.

SIMULATED PROBLEMS ACTIVITY

You will be faced with a simulated problem, for example: a company has suffered from a scandal and needs to save face. You will be asked to strategise a press release in teams. This helps you prepare for unforeseen situations in the workplace.

FAQS

"How will we receive our packages?"

Once you have selected your experience, we will send you an easy form to be filled in by your team to confirm your experiences! If your experience involves you receiving a home package, the form will ask for the best delivery address of each participant. Once your packages have been sent by ourselves and/or our suppliers, your address data will be removed from all systems

"Where will the event take place?"

We host some of our experiences on Zoom, and some on a system called Hopin. If your experience is on Hopin, we will send you instructions on how to create a profile on Hopin prior to your event. You will then be sent a link to your virtual event space that you will use on the day!

"Do we all have to pick the same activity?"

Not at all; if there is a large group of you who would like to participate in different activities, we're able to split you up and hold different experiences in different virtual rooms on Hopin. Simply let us know and we can build the event to your specifications.

"Who will be there to help us on the day?"

Dependent on the size and scale of your event, you will have one or two event managers to help you with every aspect of your event, from managing technical difficulties, to ensuring that everyone is in the right room at the right time. You will have a best point of contact if you run into any trouble.
